

Since your letter I have been thinking how much I ought to write you about my health. I am now very well indeed, and hope to go soon to the country. I have been very busy lately, and have had many things to do. I have also been thinking of writing you often, but have not had time. I am now at home, and hope to stay here some time longer.
 I am very well, and hope to go soon to the country. I have been very busy lately, and have had many things to do. I have also been thinking of writing you often, but have not had time. I am now at home, and
 hope to stay here some time longer.

James Dryden
L'Escur
1588

1585

[illegible]

[The following text is a transcription of the handwritten manuscript page shown in the image. It appears to be a collection of names or titles, possibly related to a church or religious institution, written in a cursive script.]

[Illegible handwritten text]

[illegible]

[Faint handwritten text, likely bleed-through from the reverse side of the page.]

[illegible]

Lotta - iii es De laquet h compendiosa. — In to que me per legem et iudicium et ipse puerus et pauca dicitur de laquet h compendiosa. — In to in agnitione et de laquet h compendiosa. — In to

James Anderson
4th Mo May
1588—